BIHAR — 38 DISTRICTS

Vegetarian Traditional & Dry Snacks | Rasvani Research List

Your requested filter

This catalogue includes vegetarian snack foods only. Fresh fruits, meat/fish, cooked curries, wet chutneys, curd-based foods and other moist dishes are excluded. Where a recognised district-linked dry snack is available, it is listed first. Where no reliable district-specific dry snack could be confirmed, established Bihar-wide dry snacks are included as fallback options.

Important distinction: A Bihar-wide fallback snack is genuinely associated with Bihar cuisine, but it should not be advertised as originating from that particular district. District-specific identity and producer location must be confirmed before publishing a district claim.

7-day shelf-life: The names below are candidate dry snacks, not a guarantee that every recipe lasts seven days. Shelf life varies by recipe, moisture, frying/baking, hygiene, cooling, packaging and storage. For Rasvani, show a “7 days or more” claim only after the exact producer batch and sealed pack have documented shelf-life validation.

Bihar-wide vegetarian dry snack names

These are Bihar cuisine options that can be used as fallback foods for districts where a distinct local dry snack is not reliably established. English names are descriptive translations.

□□□□□ — Thekua — Deep-fried wheat-flour and jaggery sweet snack; a recognised Bihar/Chhath tradition.

□□□□□ — Anarsa — Traditional rice-flour sweet, commonly prepared with sesame; Bihar Tourism lists it among Bihar’s sweets.

□□□□□□ — Tilkut (Sesame Sweet) — Pounded sesame with jaggery or sugar; especially associated with Gaya.

□□□ — Lai (Puffed-Grain Jaggery Sweet) — Puffed grain bound with jaggery; exact local recipe varies.

□□□□□ — Roasted Fox Nuts — Popped/roasted fox nuts; Mithila makhana has a recognised regional identity.

□□□□□□□ □□□□□ — Murmura Ladoo (Puffed Rice Jaggery Balls) — Puffed rice bound with jaggery; keep protected from humidity.

□□□-□□□□ □□□□□ — Sesame-Jaggery Ladoo — Sesame seeds and jaggery shaped into dry sweet balls.

□□□□ — Khaja (Layered Sweet Pastry) — Silao Khaja is the famous Nalanda version; other khaja must not be labelled Silao Khaja.

□□□□□ — Khurma (Traditional Sweet) — Bhojpur-linked traditional sweet; recipe and moisture differ by maker.

□□□□□□□□□ — Belgrami (Traditional Sweet) — Udwantnagar/Bhojpur speciality; because recipes may contain chhena, confirm shelf life before treating it as a long-lasting dry snack.

□□□□□ — Batisa (Traditional Sweet) — Buxar ODOP-linked sweet; confirm exact product type and shelf life.

□□□□□ □□□□□ — Nimki (Crisp Savoury Pastry) — Dry fried savoury snack; source from Bihar makers and check recipe/packaging.

□□□ — Besan Sev (Crispy Chickpea-Flour Noodles) — Dry savoury snack made from gram flour; not exclusive to Bihar.

□□□□□ □□ □□□□ — Makai ke Lawa (Popped Corn) — Popped maize snack; Bihar Government cuisine source mentions it among bhunja foods.

□□□□□ □□□□□ — Sattu Ladoo (Roasted Gram-Flour Sweet Balls) — Dry sweet made from roasted gram flour; producer recipe and shelf life need checking.

Items intentionally excluded

Litti with chokha, pittha, dahi-chura, makhana kheer, malpua served fresh, fresh fruit, fruit juice, wet chutney, cooked vegetables, fish/meat and dairy-rich moist sweets are not included as dry shelf-stable snack recommendations.
